

Australian Tropical Expertise Consortium

(ATEC)

“Living and working in the tropical north Queensland has given our businesses and research organisations the opportunity to develop successful, unique and effective ways of working in remote, hot, humid wet and dry tropical environments.”

The Consortium provides opportunities for flexible partnerships to create multidisciplinary solutions to tropical issues. ATEC clients are domestic businesses that require Tropical Expertise.

World Leading Technical and Management Expertise in the Tropics

Australian Tropical Expertise Consortium

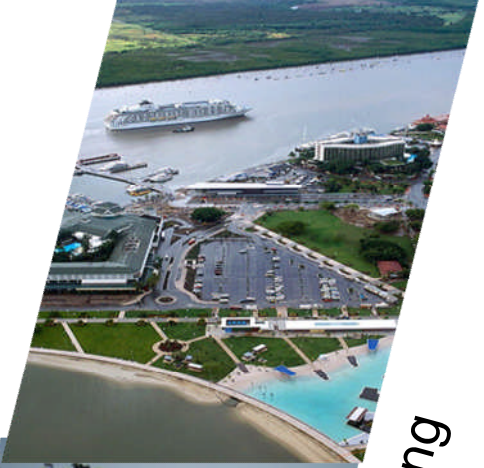

Tropical Environmental Management

Tropical Agribusiness

Tropical Health

Tropical Living

Benefits for ATEC Members

- Help businesses recognise and capitalise on their 'tropical expertise'
- Professional development and training for business
- Domestic business opportunities, including meeting Australian Managing Contractors (AMC)
- Networking opportunities
- Capability development
 - CVs, capability statements and organisational profiles
 - 40 second elevator pitch (How to sell and nail your sale)
- Regular, up-to-date e-communications via email, e-newsletter including domestic market intelligence
- Preparations for export readiness & transition to TropLinks

Benefits For ATEC Clients

- Tropical knowledge and experience provides an understanding of working and project delivery in tropical conditions. Clients benefit from the working with companies that are skilled in working and living in tropical conditions.
- ATEC members are mentored into experienced service providers who are ready for the domestic market.
- More than 240 members gives clients a holistic approach when building project teams to meet niche needs

A Website providing comprehensive search mechanism to find specialists for domestic activities (individuals and organisations)

HOME ABOUT TROPICAL EXPERTISE ABOUT ATEC MEDIA CENTRE CONTACT US

World leading technical and management expertise in the tropics

The Australian Tropical Expertise Consortium (ATEC) is a specialist group offering expertise suitable to international and Australian clients in government, non-government organisations and private sector seeking a diverse and highly skilled network of specialist consultants.

This collaborative mix of research institutions and significant private enterprise brings together knowledgeable and experienced people to offer innovative and practical solutions at a local level across the global tropics. Learn more...

Find An Expert

Keyword Search

Search

Register As An Expert

Are you a Tropical Expert in

For more information:

www.australiantropicalexpertise.com

info@australiantropicalexpertise.com

